

Would is sometimes used for offering, inviting or for requests:

Examples

Waiter....I'd like the menu, please... (request)

Would you like something to drink? (offer)

Would you like to come to the party with us? (invitation)

Exercise:

1. I _____ a cold drink, please, if that is OK. (like, likes, 'd like)
2. My best friend _____ animals very much. (like, likes, would like)
3. _____ you like something to drink just now? 'Maybe later.' (Do, Does, Would)
4. There is an old lady standing...So you say to her.... ' _____ to have a seat?'
(Do you like, Does you like, Would you like)
5. I _____ some information about trains, please. (like, likes, 'd like)
6. Your friend is tired and you offer him a drink like this... ' _____ something to drink?' (Do you like, Does you like, Would you like)
7. I _____ your dress very much. I think it's very beautiful! (like, likes, 'd like)
8. _____ tea, coffee or a coke? 'Just a glass of water, please.' (Do you like, Does you like, Would you like)
9. What _____? 'A good wine, please.' (do you like, do you likes, would you like)
10. What kind of music _____? 'I love jazz.' (do you like, you like, would you like)
11. He likes tea but he _____ coffee. (don't like, doesn't like, wouldn't like)
12. Which vegetables _____, sir? 'A salad and some carrots.' (do you like, you like, would you like)